At the Merchants Exchange in the Af ternoon-Speeches Made by Doctors and Others.

A meeting largely composed of doctors, was held at the Merchants' Exchange yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, and in spit of the dripping skies, was well attended Among those present the following were noticed: A. B. Treadwell, D. P. Hadden, D. C. Meyers, S. P. Walker, W. C. Folkes, R. F. Patterson, F. T. Edmondson, W. F. Taylor, Wm. Bowles, J. T. Pettit, John Overton, R. W. Galloway, D. M. Scales, L. W. The meeting was called to order by President A. B. Treadwell of the Merchants' Exchange, who introduced Dr. Jones, one of the commissioners to select a site for the West Temps and the commissioners.

Dr. Jones said the commissioners were de-termined to make a thorough survey of the field, and were anxious to have the fullest and freest discussion of the question. Dr. Saunders suggested that Dr. Thorn-

The several sites for the location of this asylum adjacent to Memphis which have been shown you by our citizens, while easily accessible at all seasons of the year by railroad and turnpike, are at sufficient distance to be perfectly isolated and thus placed beyond any danger of infection from the city should it ever in future be visited by epidemic disease of any character. was called for, and took issue with Dr. Thornton in his statement in regard to the proportion of taxes paid by Shelby county. He believed Memphis paid more taxes toan any other city in the State, and certainly Shelby county paid as much as my other five or six counties in West leannessee. "Taxes, wealth and population," he said, "entitle Memphis to the sylum, it having already been settled that t is as healthy, or healthier, than any other portion of the western division. While it might be better for another county to have the institution established a that county, it would not be better for the balance of West Tennessee, Memphis being easily accessible from every point. Established any where else, it would be necessary for those whom it was desired a place there to pass through Memphis in the majority of instances. It is to temphis that the people come for their applies, and Memphis alone can furnish in market for the farm and orchard products of the asylum. But there is another consideration which the gentlemen should emember. It is not to Memphis of to-day nat they must look, but to what Memphis a bound to be in the near future—a great ity—the home of 150,000 people, teeming with industry and laden with wealth."

A representative of the APPEAL WA A representative of the APPEAL was shown a telegram yesterday from New York to a leading legal firm in this city, stating that the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia had obtained a majority of the stock of the Memphis and Charleston. The telegram was in the shape of instructions to attorneys, and there can be no doubt about it. The same thing has been rumored for some time, but this is the first time it has been authoritatively confirmed.

The usual rumor, which inevitably follows upon the heels of a visit of President Clark to Memphis, that he has purchased a controlling interest in the Mississippi and Tennessee for the Illinois Central, is being extensively circulated. As usual, the exact figures are given. It is stated that M. Wilson, the president In response to repeated calls, President ladden arose, and, assuming that air of nodesty which is so becoming to him: "I nodesty which is so becoming to him: "I ave very few words to say about this asyum," he began, "You all know my pinion is that Memphis is the place for verything. All the facts have been fully aid before you, and it would be mere repeitton for me to say more. Representing, and, I hope, speaking for, the city of Months, I am willing to least one matter enirely in the lands of the gentlemen of the commission, whom I know to be worthy of the trust and confidence which has been reposed in them by the State. I am one matter that they will not willfully disretied. As usual, the exact figures are given. It is stated that Mr. Wilson, the purchaser of the McComb interest, sold to the Illinois Central for 86 cents, clearing $80,000 on the trade. Inquiry was made last night but no confirmation could be obtained. It is probably of a piece with other rumors of the same kind.

I am ure that they will not wilifully disregard the claims of the Queen City of the Mississippi Valley. But the glory of Memphis has not reached its acme, and he responsibility of future years will depend upon the gentlemen of the commission. The asylum is not for a day or a year, but for decades to come, and the natural growth of the city, its prospects for the future, must be taken into consideration. The doctors have told you of our health and sanitation. No man grows the first sanitation of the strength of the extension of that road to that place, and will make an appeal to the Board of Trade to aid the project. They have the countenance and cordial support of the Memphis public, and their efforts will be warmly seconded by the people along the line.
